L and L of Raleigh Wins STARS BUILDER OF THE YEAR AWARD

L and L of Raleigh, Inc. was named the North Carolina Home Builders Association 2013 Distinguished Builder of the Year. The award was presented at the recent STARS Awards at the Omni Hotel in Charlotte. Builders, associates, realtors, media and advertising professionals, local HBAs and others who make major contributions to the residential home building industry are honored at the STARS Awards each year.

The Distinguished Builder of the Year Award recognizes a builder who has made significant, long-term contributions to the HBA, the building industry and the community. This prestigious award was presented to Warren Smith and L and L of Raleigh based on involvement, participation and support of the local and state HBA committees, Boards and special projects; as well as community service, charity support and involvement in local community organizations. "We are extremely proud to have received this award," says Warren Smith, company president. "It's quite an honor to be recognized by our peers statewide for the job we do and the kind of company we are."

L and L of Raleigh's VP of Construction, Kevin Nunn and Warren Smith, President of L and L of Raleigh were on hand to accept the award.

L and L of Raleigh, Inc. is currently building custom homes from the $200's to over $1million, throughout the Triangle, including homes inside the beltline and in Heritage Wake Forest.
